

Local Places for Nature

Claire Pepper, Community
Development Officer, WWH

Benefits of Local Places for Nature

- Chance to reverse nature's decline
- Provide an important boost to the wellbeing of our communities
- Create opportunities in deprived areas with little or no access to nature
- Health benefits

Our projects in partnership with Keep Wales Tidy so far...

Butterfly Gardens

- Applewood Close, Splott, Cardiff
- Limebourne Court, Whitchurch, Cardiff
- Hanover Court, Whitchurch, Cardiff
- Carmel Court, Penylan, Cardiff
- Llwyn Y Mor, Swansea

Wildlife Gardens

- Cefn Coed Resident's Group, Fishguard, Pembrokeshire
- Twyncarmel, Merthyr Tydfil
- Cyncoed, Ynysybwl, Rhondda Cynon Taf
- Celyn Avenue, Lakeside, Cardiff

Fruit Gardens

- Sydney Hall Court Garden Club, Connah's Quay, Flintshire
- St Catherine's Court, Caerphilly

Wellbeing benefits to our residents...

- Improve mental health
- Sense of wellbeing
- Pride in the area residents live in
- Benefits that nature and wildlife bring to residents
- Bringing communities together, meeting new neighbours
- Create areas for residents to socialise
- Create a sense of ownership in the communal gardens

East Tyndall Street, Splott

A scheme of 172 homes and 369 residents

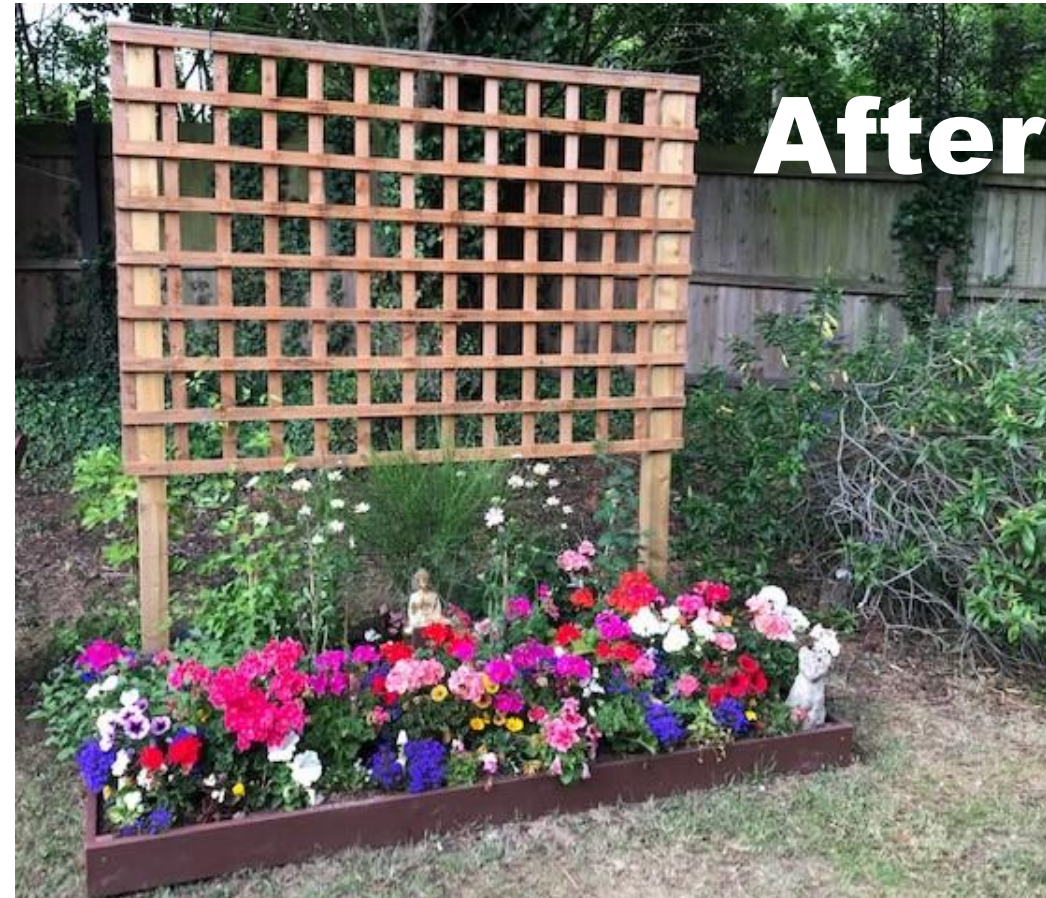

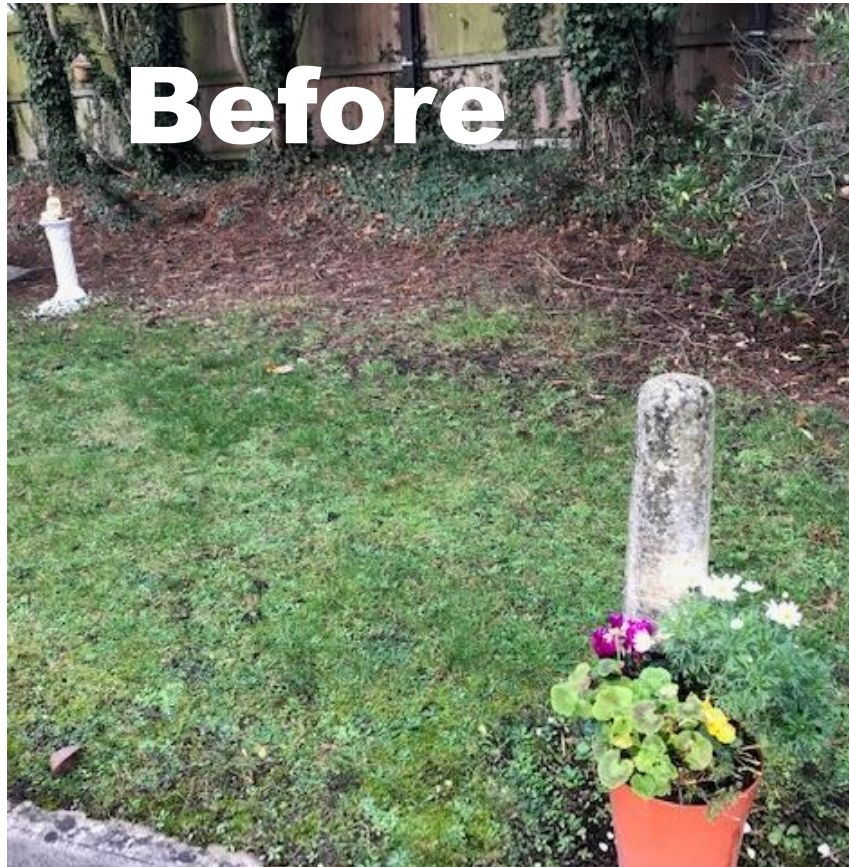

Cyncoed, Ynysybwl, RCT

A scheme of 30 homes and 61 residents

Carmel Court, Penylan, Cardiff

A scheme of 10 retirement flats and 10 residents

Why are nature gardens so important

Here's what our residents say ...

"It will be lovely to watch butterflies and birds in our garden"

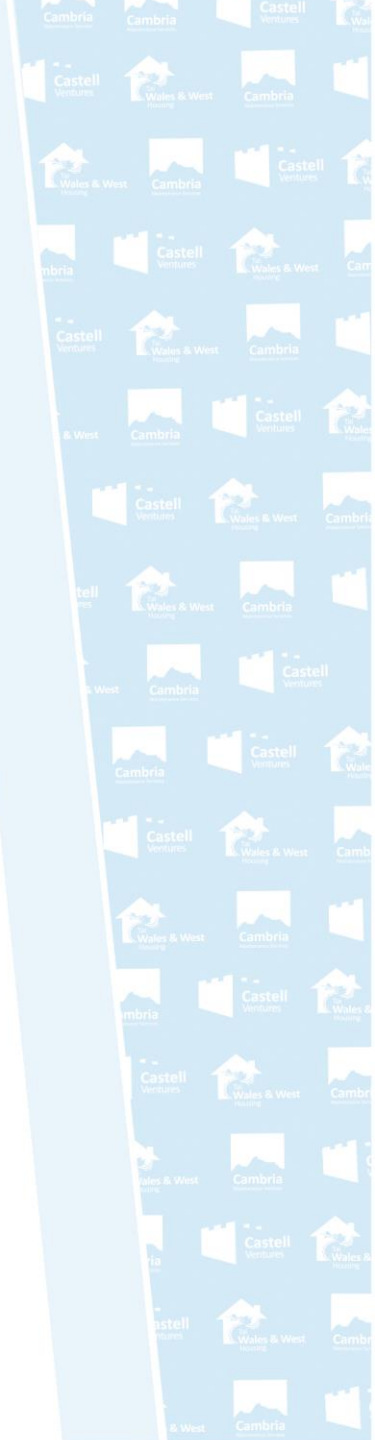

"Lockdown was hard for me. I enjoyed being able to help build the garden to create an area for me and my neighbours to be proud of."

"It has transformed the place. I can't wait to sit in our fruit garden on a Sunday afternoon"

Local Places for Nature - Butterfly Project

Wales & West Applewood Close

Cardiff

Wales & West - Hanover Court

Local Places for Nature - Starter Project

Cardiff

