

CONSTRUCTION
YOUTH TRUST

Sitting on a Ticking Time
Bomb

Welsh Skills Shortage

- 6.2% the average output growth in Wales in the five years to 2021.
- 2.7% is the projected employment growth between 2017 – 2021
- 16,000 the number of new jobs projected in Wales by 2021
- Brexit likely to deepen the UK's skills shortage
- Low level of apprentices working in construction

About the Trust

We enable young people to:

Raise their awareness of the industry

Increase their confidence and aspirations

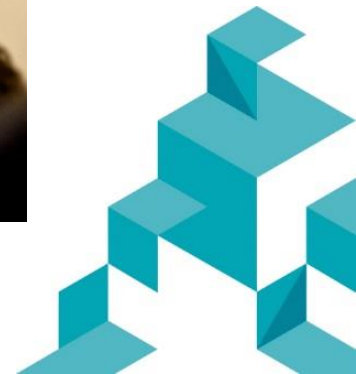

Gain experience in the industry

Access training and employment opportunities

CONSTRUCTION
YOUTH TRUST

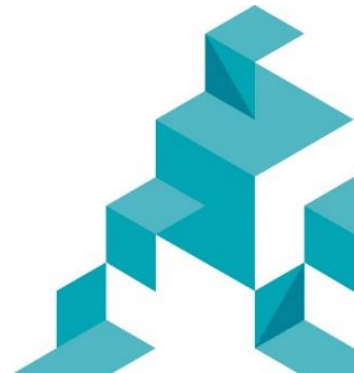

How the Trust helps

2 programmes to promote the construction industry to young people

- Budding Brunels for students
- Budding Builders for people facing barriers

CONSTRUCTION
YOUTH TRUST

Budding Brunels

Budding Brunels is an intensive OCN accredited schools engagement programme aimed at students from diverse backgrounds, and aims to inform and inspire them about professional opportunities available within the built environment. The programme brings together students with industry ambassadors to showcase the array of career paths and opportunities available to them following their mainstream education.

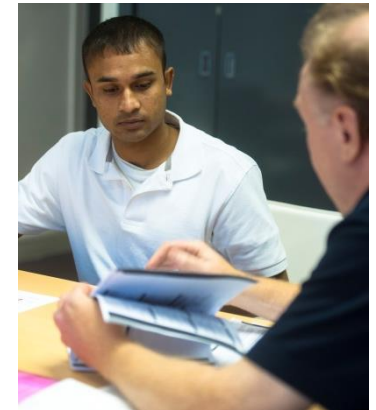

CONSTRUCTION
YOUTH TRUST

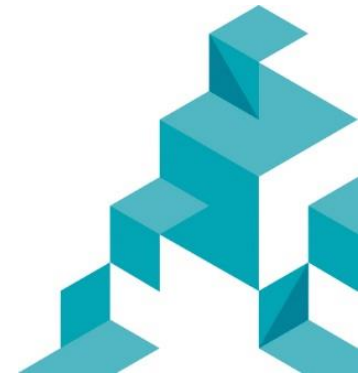

Budding Builders

Prioritising communities which face forms of disadvantage, we deliver our Budding Builders programmes to provide young people with an opportunity to learn new, demand-led skills in a variety of different trades; offer CSCS card training and support; and clear progression routes into work or further training. The courses aim to inspire those living in deprived areas about career choices in the built environment, and to provide them with a sense of direction and motivation, with employment becoming a more achievable goal.

CONSTRUCTION
YOUTH TRUST

Construction Youth Trust Cymru

Find out more

Jemma Bridgeman
Wales Manager

M 07944 643259

E jemma.bridgeman@constructionyouth.org.uk

CONSTRUCTION
YOUTH TRUST

