You must act quickly as this scheme is on a first-come, first-served basis, so tell your friends and neighbours. Terms and conditions apply.

How does the scheme work?

The Government has set energy companies targets to reduce carbon emissions from energy production. To support this energy companies have provided up to £1.3 billion to fund more energy efficient heating systems and better insulation in qualifying homes. As a result of this work households will use less energy and emit less carbon dioxide, thus helping energy companies meet their carbon reduction targets.
